

Case Studies

S. Ramesh

40 years old Ramesh is a business man in choppadindi village unfortunately he fell sick and suffered with sever back pain and consulted doctors for the treatment and they suggested a minor surgery to the spinal cord. After the surgery he was unable to move and after that he consulted many specialists but no use he didn't get back his previous condition. He cried a lot for the situation occurred to him and gathered strength from his friend who was a disable person and he gradually practiced walking with the support. The incident totally changed the entire life style he started a new business to earn livelihood.

When NPdO representative approached him he was not aware of the situations of the PWDs .He became a member in the committee for the PWDs and gathered nearby villagers in to groups. In this process he gathered the list of persons who were not benefited the minimum requirements, He led the troop to fight for gaining the tricycles. He was successful in addressing the issues of other PWDs and making them sensitize on availing the rights and other services provided by the government

In his words "I feel proud of working for the persons with disability, in my life I learnt many things from NPdO, My heart full thanks to the organization.